

Registration Of Cormo Sheep From Other Cormo Registries

Accepted Registries

ACSA accepts registries from the Cormo Breeders Coalition, Ortmann Ranch and Downey Ranch

To Register a non-ACSA cormo with the American Cormo Sheep Association

- Fill out an American Cormo Sheep Association registration request form. The form can be found on the ACSA webpage www.cormosheep.com.
- Provide the SIRE and DAM pedigrees from submitting registry or registries to include the registry number, owner, breeder, sex and flock number
- If the DAM has been Artificially Inseminated, then provide the registry A.I. Number.
- Include the ACSA number for any animal registered with ACSA that may appear in the submitting pedigree. Additional information may be required if no Downey or ACSA reference is listed in the submitting SIRE and DAMM pedigrees.
- Include the current registration fee (as listed on the website, late fee waived) for each animal, including SIRE and DAM, which do not have an ACSA number.
- Submit the registration form, generational animal information and fees to the ACSA registrar.
- A registration request will be denied if the animal cannot be traced to original Downey Cormo Sheep (per Association By-Laws) and if the animal does not meet the published Downey Cormo Sheep Standards.

Benefits of Registering Animals with the American Cormo Sheep Association

- ACSA helps breeders market their sheep and sheep products.
- ACSA provides a traditional website and a Facebook site for breeders to promote and market their animals and products.
- Breeders have the option to add their own photo to ACSA Marketing Brochure
- ACSA Marketing Brochures are given each year with initial registration – if breeder photo is requested in brochure, prior submission of photo is required.
- Promote Downey Cormo standards for animal and wool quality.
